

A detailed anatomical illustration of a human forearm and hand, showing muscles, tendons, and bones. The forearm is shown in a flexed position, with the hand pointing downwards. The muscles are rendered in shades of red and pink, while tendons and ligaments are shown in white and yellow. The bones are depicted in a light green color. The background is a gradient of blue and white.

Conquest Orthoplastics Teaching Programme

Upper Limb Injuries

Led by Mr Parviz Sorooshian

Appropriate for MRCS exam candidates

Date: 13/05/2021

Time: 18.30

Location: Microsoft Teams

Sign up for free by emailing
Hosam.nasr@nhs.net